Special Audit of County Books Now Complete

James H. Pilkinton, Hope attorney, said today that the investigation of county affairs by C.P.A. auditors from R. A. Life & Company, Little Rock, was now finished and that the citizens who figured the audit were awaiting the written report from the auditors.

Asked if the written report would be made available to the press when it was received, Mr. Pilkinton said that he could not say now. That would be for the business men who paid for it to decide. He said that he personally favored making it public because it dealt with public affairs, public money and public property. Mr. Pilkinton stated that a copy would be furnished to the Prosecuting Attorney.

A report that former Judge U. G. Garrett refunded $14,235.50 to the county treasury was confirmed today by Treasurer Harry Hawthorne. The receipt issued to Mr. Garrett listed the payment, made today, as a refund for overpayment to Mobile Oil Co. of Magnolia in 1960.

The citizens committee who financed the audit is headed by B. W. Edwards of Hope. The auditors have spent the past three weeks at the courthouse going through the county records for the years 1957, 1958, 1959 and 1960.

Mr. Pilkinton is attorney for the citizens group. He said today that he was employed to bring such civil suits as may be necessary and proper to recover for the county certain property and money. He said that criminal matters, if any, growing out of the investigation would be the responsibility of the Prosecuting Attorney.

Presbyterians to Install Elders

A special part of the morning worship service at the Presbyterian church Sunday will be devoted to the installation and ordination of elders who were elected by the congregation last Sunday.

Dr. James W. Branch will be ordained and installed as an elder. Major Carl V. Green, who was ordained an elder by the Trinity Presbyterian Church of El Paso, will be installed.

The elders of the church will participate in the ordination and installation service.

Ruckus Develops Over Island

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A ruckus is developing over whether R. V. Kimble's island in Arkansas or Mississippi.

The 300-acre island in the Mississippi River east of Eudora was deeded to Kimble, of Greenville, Miss. on Aug. 6, 1960, for $900.

Now Chicot County Tax Assessor Julius Livingston, armed with county maps, contends it's in Mississippi.

Livingston asked the attorney general's office to rule whether he can put the land on Chicot County's tax books when it is outside the state. The attorney general said he could not.

A Memphis firm surveyed the property during Kimble's negotiations with the Land Department and the survey report showed the land is in Arkansas. Livingston's office said the county has not had the land surveyed. A clerk said he did not know what the county's next move might be.

Balloonist Goes to Record, Dies in 25 Ft. Fall

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Navy medical officer soared higher than man has ever gone in a balloon—113,500 feet up—and then met a tragic death in a 25-foot fall from a rescuing helicopter.

Lt. Cmdr. Victor G. Probert, 34, of Bethesda, Md., fell backward from the sling of the helicopter that had picked him up Thursday in the Gulf of Mexico after an almost perfect landing. He died aboard the carrier Antietam 7 1/2 hours after he and Cmdr. Malcolm Ross, of Washington, soared to their record height.

Ross was lifted to the carrier by one of three hovering rescue helicopters without injury. He stood on the deck awaiting his companion's rescue.

Hours earlier they were sharing the drama of the record flight, 21 1/2 miles above the gulf. Shortly Continued from Page Three

Calvin Cassidy, 65, Dies at Magnolia Friday

Calvin E. Cassidy, 65, formerly of Hope, died at his office at Magnolia yesterday. He owned and operated the Cassidy Pipe & Supply Co.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Joe Keith Cassidy of Magnolia; six brothers, Bert of Bodcaw, Olha of Shreveport, Hoover of Camden, Ray of Pine Bluff, Elton of Helena and Nathan Cassidy of Hope; and a sister, Mrs. Jim Douthitt of Camden.

Services were to be held at 2:30 p.m. today at Magnolia. Graveside services will be held at Rose Hill Cemetery in Hope at 4 p.m. today.

161 Arrested for Sale of Wild Ducks

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Agents in Arkansas and four other states swooped down in predawn raids today in what was described as the greatest roundup in history of market hunters of wild ducks.

A total of 161 persons were named in federal warrants in Arkansas, Louisiana, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia, officials here said.

The arrests climaxed more than two and a half years of undercover investigations in which agents bought wild ducks. Sale of migratory waterfowl is a federal offense.

About 40 of the 52 persons named on warrants or summonses in Arkansas were in custody and being arraigned before U.S. commissioners in Pine Bluff, Little Rock and Jonesboro.

An agent here said 82 warrants were issued in Louisiana, 15 in Maryland, six in North Carolina and six in Virginia.

In New Orleans, the U.S. marshal's office said 82 men had been arrested.

Agents said ducks were taken by various methods, including use of traps, night hunting and use of bait.

The undercover work was led by Anthony M. Stefano, described as a federal criminal investigator. Most of the warrants were on Stefano's complaint. Some charges extended back to 1955.

The roundup was directed by William T. Davis of Atlanta, regional supervisor of the branch of management and enforcement of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, and Charles H. Lawrence, assistant chief of the Bureau's branch of management and enforcement.

State agents cooperated with their federal colleagues in the arrests.

In Arkansas 25 Game and Fish Commission employees augmented 20 federal operatives.

In a statement, an official said the arrests were the most wide spread for market hunting in the history of the federal Fish and Wildlife Service.

Stefano, who worked in three states during his investigation, bought a total of 1,902 ducks and geese in Arkansas. He posed as a salesman for a nut company.

Agents said purchases of deer, quail and other game animals also were made.

The roundup struck most heavily in the Stuttgart and Manila areas, centers of Arkansas' duck hunting.

Stefano bought from three to 200 birds from the various offenders, at prices reportedly ranging from $2 per duck up, agents said.

The largest alleged purchases of ducks involved Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Isbell of Rt. 1, Carlisle, and Ivy Lee (Lefty) Grissom, 45, of Marked Tree.

12 Cubans Are Under Security

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—U. S. officials kept 12 half-starved Cubans, believed to be survivors of the ill-fated Cuban invasion, under security wraps today.

Delirious and wild-eyed, the Cubans ended a 15-day voyage across the Gulf of Mexico in a 25-foot open sail boat Thursday.

Authorities hinted that newsmen might be allowed to talk to the men sometime today after a 24-hour quarantine ends.

They were picked up Wednesday night by the American tanker SS Atlantic Seaman about 170 miles south of the Mississippi River. Three of their companions were dead.

Officially classified as "refugees from Cuba," the 12 survivors were taken to the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital when they arrived in New Orleans after a trip up the Mississippi River in a Coast Guard boat.

They shielded their faces from newsmen and photographers.

Coast Guard Cmdr. Charles A. Greene said the boat left some part of Cuba on April 19, two days after the unsuccessful invasion party landed.

Music Week Observed by Local Clubs

National Music Week sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs, and locally by the Friday Music Club, begins the first Sunday in May. This year the club will be holding its twelfth music festival with a week of musical activities which they hope will reach into every home in the community, according to Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, general chairman.

Beginning with special music in the city churches on Sunday and continuing throughout the week, musical programs of many varied kinds will be presented.

While not a part of the celebration, the violin concerts by Rubinoff this week should be an inspiration to all and serve to introduce the week in a fine way.

The third of a series of organ recitals on the new Allen organ at the First Baptist Church will be presented by Fletcher Trotter of Henderson State Teachers' College, a recent winner in the auditions of the federation in Lawrence, Kansas. He will be assisted by the Friday Choral Club in a group of vocal selections, which will include "The Green Cathedral" and "Eternal Life", a setting of the Prayer of St. Francis.

Each elementary school will give a program for parents and patrons featuring the work done in music during the year.

Paisley School has chosen the theme "May Day in Nursery Land" for its program on Friday, May 5, at 9:30. This program will consist of living pictures and songs by the tiniest children who are always adorable.

Brookwood School first graders will use a Mother Goose theme for their program on Friday, May 12, at 1:15.

The Garland School rhythm band and elementary band will be assisted by choruses from the various grade levels in a miscellaneous program on Friday, May 12, at 10:40.

On Thursday morning the Junior High School Glee Club will present a short version of the opera "The Bohemian Girl" at an assembly program at 8:45. In the leading roles are Poleda Glatton, Vicki Connell, Ann Randolph, Bonnie Boswell, and Janice Harper. The entire glee club will be featured in the chorus, dressed in the colorful gypsy costumes of the opera.

The High School Glee Club program, which will be given Friday morning at 8:40, is entitled "A Visit with the Great Masters of Music." Included will be selections by Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Handel, Chopin, Schubert, Liszt, Grieg, Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninoff, and Richard Rodgers.

It is hoped that all patrons of the schools as well as other lovers of good music will avail themselves of the many opportunities to hear live music and to show appreciation to the many teachers who have worked to prepare the programs and to the children who have put in hours of rehearsal. There is no charge for any of these programs.

Arkla Official Warns Again of Rate Increase

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Cities protesting Arkansas Louisiana Gas company's rate increase are risking another increase by challenging the firm's overall rate of return on its investment. But they could avoid the risk by instead challenging fixed costs of serving each customer.

So said Lewis M. Robinson, chairman of the Arkansas Public Service Commission, Thursday.

He added that if the cities challenge fixed costs of serving each customer, the Public Service Commission could rule only on the amount charged by the company for the first 1,000 cubic feet of gas to each customer, each month, instead of on the company's overall business.

The company raised its minimum charge 70 cents to $1.80 on April 1 to 53 Arkansas cities. Some have said they will protest in a PSC hearing. Company attorneys have agreed to a full-scale rate case, but added that if the hearings show Arkla is not making its fair rate of return on an overall basis, the company will ask for another overall raise.

Robinson said a full-scale rate case would be much broader than one based only on minimum cost of service. Pine Bluff City attorney George Holmes told the PSC last Friday that the protesting cities would hire a rate expert to study the "reasonableness" of the company's increase.

Arkla attorney R.H. Thornton Jr. countered that the cities were asking for complete revenue case. He added that the company was agreeable to such a case providing that, if it is found Arkla's overall earnings are not at maximum, the company be allowed another increase.

Seven of the 53 cities involved protested last week, and others are considering a protest.

Robinson said he only wanted to appraise the cities of the differences in the courses they could pursue toward challenging the rate hike.

He said a hearing on fixed cost of serving each customer would be much simpler because it would concern only such things as cost of buying meters, cost of labor and materials, reading meters and sending out monthly bills.

But a hearing on Arkla's rate of return on its investment would involve the firm's overall operations, he added, including transmission line losses and the firm's ability to attract capital.

He said the cities could take the safer route by merely amending their protests.

City to Stop Dogs Running at Large

The Board of Directors has ordered a crackdown on stray dogs. Following a flurry of complaints from citizens, the Board has ordered that immediate steps be taken to remove all dogs running at large which do not have a tag showing a rabies vaccination.

City Manager Garland Medders has reported to the Board that plans are underway for an attempt to get rid of the stray dog problem. In order to give every one a chance to take care of any dog they are interested in, a special price will be offered on rabies vaccination.

Dr. Herbert Rogers, City Sanitarian, will set up equipment on the City Hall lawn Saturday, May 13, and will vaccinate any dog for a price of $1.00. In the event of bad weather, the vaccination program will be carried on at the city warehouse.

Following this program of vaccination, people who fail to take advantage of this special offer will be given a period of two weeks in which to have their dogs vaccinated.

On June 1st, a special patrol will be assigned to pick up stray dogs, and any dog running at large without an identification tag will be picked up.

Mrs. Shepard Watches Via Television

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Mrs. Alan Shepard, who watched her husband on television as he took off into space today, emerged from the privacy of her curtained house triumphant and happy.

Although she had not spoken with her husband, she had been told by Col. John Powers at Cape Canaveral that everything went all right with his rocket ship trip to the fringe of space and back.

"It was just wonderful, wonderful," she told the mob of cameramen, reporters and curious neighbors gathered around her porch.

She had been watching the rocket blast on television with a transistor radio in her lap.

With her were her parents, the R. P. Brewsters of Kennett Square, Pa., a friend, Mrs. John Matthews, and her daughter, Jean Matthews.

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Steel-nerved Alan B. Shepard Jr. rode a rocket into space today, exclaimed "what a beautiful view" as he looked down on the earth, and then dropped to a safe landing in the Atlantic.

To the wiry, 37-year-old Navy commander, the historic adventure obviously was no more frightening than many earlier flights he had made in hot experimental aircraft.

"It's a beautiful day," he told Marines on the helicopter that plucked his space capsule out of the water after a soaring flight 115 miles above the earth and 302 miles southeast from the Cape Canaveral launching pad.

His nonchalance gave way to excitement as he declared: "Boy, what a ride!"

Only 19 minutes after the Redstone rocket booster blasted off at 9:34 a.m., Shepard climbed out of the escape hatch of the space craft and was picked up, to be transferred to the deck of the aircraft carrier Lake Champlain.

"I don't think there's much you'll have to do to me, Doc," America's first spaceman remarked to one of the physicians waiting to determine if Shepard suffered physical or psychological harm in his flight out of the atmosphere.

Shepard had radioed from the weightless void of space that he could see, through his periscope, the entire East Coast of the United States.

President Kennedy telephoned his congratulations to Shepard on the carrier and said he was looking forward to the space man's arrival in Washington, when he will receive a hero's welcome.

Shepard's blazing, 5,000-mile-an-hour flight was only the beginning of American exploration of space, said Hugh Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Soon, Dryden said, an astronaut will orbit the earth and later travel to the moon and back.

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States' first spaceman, Alan B. Shepard Jr., rocketed briefly across the threshold of space today and landed safely after a 5,100 mile-an-hour journey that carried him 115 miles high and 302 miles down range.

The pickup occurred at 9:53 a.m. (EST), 19 minutes after the Redstone booster rocket blasted off from Cape Canaveral at 9:34 a.m.

The flight reached an altitude of about 115 miles and lasted 15 minutes.

The 37-year-old Navy commander's good condition was evident throughout the flight when Shepard reported such things as: "What a beautiful sight!" in describing the earth below.

He radioed back that he could see the outline of the entire East Coast of the United States.

"Throughout the rest of the journey, he said everything was OK."

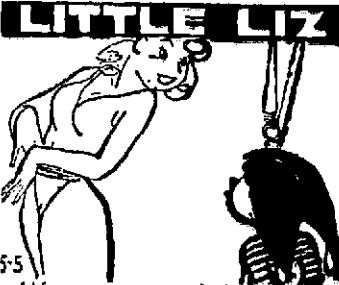

Ships, planes and helicopters raced to attempt recovery of the astronaut when his cabin plopped into the water.

Shepard immediately was transferred to the aircraft carrier Lake Champlain, flagship of a seven-vessel recovery fleet.

Crewmen of the Lake Champlain were told not to speak to the astronaut. Doctors and psychologists want him to tell his story without having it colored by ideas conveyed to him on his return.

The successful shot puts the United States back into the space

Kiwanis Club, and the local office of the Employment Security Division.

Mayor Frank Douglas has issued a proclamation pertaining to the week as did Governor Faubus.

Eugene "Sleepy" Cox, commander of Leslie Huddleston Post of the American Legion and also of the Senior Citizens Club, said that both organizations solidly endorsed the observance of hiring our senior citizens.

Jack Pearman, a member of the governor's Commission on Aging, and chairman of the state Department Employment Committee of the American Legion, said that the most valuable resource our country possesses is our manpower, and the older workers—including war veterans—have contributed immeasurably to the achievements which have made our country a leading power in the world today.

Regarding older workers, Teddy Jones, manager of the local ESD office, indicated that about 20% of the total placements made each month by the Hope office were in the over 45 age bracket. This break off point in the individual age category—over 45—is used by the Bureau of Labor Statistics in classifying so-called older workers.

Posters depicting the theme "Ability is Ageless—Hire a 40+ Worker" have been distributed and are being displayed by local merchants in connection with this older worker program.

Stepfather Trouble

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My father died when I was two. Mother remarried seven years later. At first my stepfather was very nice to me and my brother but now that we are teenagers he treats us like dirt. A couple of months ago he knocked me flat on my back. When I ask my mother if I may go somewhere she says, "Ask your father." What right has he to tell us when we may go and come if he isn't our real father? This has caused a lot of disturbance in what is left of our home. My brother and I have lots of friends and relatives who love us. We could stay with them and feel more welcome than here. Is there any law to prevent us from going? I am 15, he is 17. We've considered running away but that is too childish. I've even thought of killing myself. —Going Crazy

Dear Going Crazy: Legally, your mother still has jurisdiction over you and your brother and will until you come of age which, in most states is 18 for you and 21 for him. But that doesn't give your stepfather the right to beat you. If your mother remains indifferent, by all means see your relatives. The problem could be settled amicably for all concerned if they took you and your brother into their home. As you both grow older, the physical resemblance to your father probably increases. This would account for, but not excuse, your stepfather's primitive reactions.

Not long ago I advised a girl to stop quibbling about her fiancé's use of slang. Used often enough, slang becomes part of our general vocabulary.

Arthur Kern of Kennedy, N.Y., writes:

Dear Helen: I can't agree with you about the fellow using slang. I work with men. A lot of them use slang. I don't go for that stuff. I wouldn't think of swearing in company around home as the children would hear.

Dear Mr. Kern: Don't confuse slang with swearing. It's the spirit, not the word, which offends. I have known men who peppered their conversation with cuss words but did it so pleasantly that no one gave it a second thought. You must also take into consideration that swearing can be an emotional safety valve.

Dear Helen: I went out with a boy about whom I knew little save that everyone said he was nice. Mother liked him to. The first date was grand. When he asked me out again I accepted. He started to pet. I stopped him before it was too late. He said next time

Fletcher Trotter

Fletcher Trotter, senior organ student of Robert Ellis, at Henderson State Teachers College, will present a program of organ music at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 7, at First Baptist Church. He is sponsored by the Friday Music Club. The Choral Club will sing a group of vocal numbers.

we would go all the way. I told him there would be no next time. He threatens to tell what we did if I turn him down. He is six years older than I. My mother is not well. I don't want to worry her. His best friend goes with my girl friend. Possibly they could talk him into leaving me alone.

before reaching maximum altitude, Ross, the pilot, had radioed the carrier that he could see the Atlantic Ocean on the other side of Florida.

Asked on another transmission how things were going, Prather, of 166 ducks from Isbell on two different occasions and another 120 ducks from his wife.

Grissom, who has a prior record of similar game violations, allegedly sold 212 ducks—up to 90 at a time—on seven different occasions.

Eight women were named in charges. They were not arrested but were served with summonses to report within five days.

The men arrested were taken to county jails pending making of bonds.

Agents were briefed early in the morning by Ralph Harris, top federal game agent in Arkansas, and Aubrey Fowler, chief of the Game and Fish Commission's enforcement division.

They moved in to make arrests at 5 a.m., the same time set for pickups in other states.

Worried Girl

Dear Worried Girl: Normally, your mother would be the logical person to tell this bully off. Since that isn't practical, ask your doctor or minister to do the job. You're taking a chance in calling on your girl friend's steady. Being the bully's best friend, he is more likely to stand by him than you.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful letters available. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for "The Petting Problem."

father of two children, replied: "Things are great. Come on up." The huge plastic balloon had been launched from the carrier's flight deck off the mouth of the Mississippi River at 7:08 a.m. (Central Standard Time). It reached its maximum altitude 2 hours and 36 minutes later at a point about 136 miles south of Mobile, Ala.

The carrier followed the balloon as it drifted down across the gulf on a southeasterly course. It landed on the gulf at 4:05 p.m. having run into trouble on descent. When the balloonists had dropped to an altitude of about 40,000 feet the rate suddenly and alarmingly had increased to 1,000 feet a minute, according to information relayed to Washington from the carrier.

Prather and Ross jettisoned everything, a Navy spokesman said, including their radio and a drug line which would have been a key facility in an attempt to land aboard the carrier. Loss of the drug line made the planned landing on the carrier impossible, the Navy said.

Navy officials reported the gondola landed on the water "almost perfectly" and that the huge balloon detached itself as it had been designed to do. While the gondola floated on the surface, about 1 1/2 miles from the Atlantic, the three helicopters raced toward the balloonists.

As Prather was being hoisted into the helicopter he fell from the sling. He was encumbered with a spacesuit and instrumentation weighing about 25 pounds when dry.

A Navy statement said Prather or fell backward into the water and went under when the pressurized suit apparently became water-logged. The accident occurred about 140 miles south-southeast of Pensacola, Fla. Prather was pulled back to the still floating gondola in a few minutes by a Navy skin diver, who had dropped from one of the helicopters. Then, Prather was removed to the carrier in a motorized whale boat. He was unconscious when pulled from the water and apparently never regained consciousness before dying aboard the carrier about an hour and 20 minutes after being pulled from the water.

race with Russia.

Soviet scientists copped the first big prize 23 days ago when they boosted the world's first space traveler, Yuri Gagarin, into a 168-mile high orbit and returned him to earth 108 minutes later.

Today's suburban shot does not match the Russian achievement but is a major step toward orbiting an American which the National Space Agency plans to do later this year.

The purpose of today's flight was to determine if man can perform useful chores in space.

Shepard proved conclusively it could be done.

He reported constantly throughout the flight that he was able to do certain tasks, such as pushing levers and buttons and operating manual controls.

All the way through he told the control center at Cape Canaveral by radio that everything was okay.

During the flight, Mercury officials said that Shepard was reporting facts and figures just like a test pilot would.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration made this official announcement: "Test No. 108 is terminated. This was the pioneer U.S. man in space flight. The Mercury spacecraft is on the deck of the aircraft carrier Lake Champlain and the helicopter is about to land. Shepard is about to come out of helicopter."

Shepard's reports on the "beautiful view" came only three minutes following launch, after a periscope in the capsule protruded to give the space pilot a view of the earth.

Shepard had entered his space cabin at 5:18 a.m. (EST), after a final medical examination and a breakfast of flit mignon, scrambled eggs, sherbet and peaches.

He remained there 4 hours, 18 minutes, during a countdown that had been delayed several times by technical troubles and weather.

The Redstone throbbed to life after a countdown directed by former German rocketeer Dr. Kurt Debus.

Debus was assisted by Dr. Werner Von Braun head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration space flight laboratory.

The slender rocket, stretching 83 feet tall with the capsule and 15 1/2-foot escape tower on top, flew a true course as it knitted into a clear sky under the anxious eyes of thousands who crammed into missileland to watch as America for the first time committed a man into space.

Millions of Shepard's countrymen watched on live television.

As the missile accelerated, forces six times the pull of gravity pushed the astronaut against his couch.

At 141 seconds after launch, the capsule separated and the escape tower — designed to jerk the capsule free and parachute it safely to earth in case of trouble—was jettisoned.

Automatic controls then flipped the nine-foot tall capsule over 180 degrees so the blunt heat shield base led the way, with the pilot riding backward.

About four minutes after launch, Shepard tumbled, as if over a precipice, into a weird and weightless world—an exhilarating experience that lasted about five minutes.

Officials did not say whether Shepard had reported on his reactions during the weightless period.

But during the time he would have been weightless, the reports were that he was performing his tasks.

As swiftly as it came, the weightless feeling left and Shepard once again was gripped by G forces—twice the tenacity as on acceleration—as the capsule plunged back toward earth.

The pilot reported he was subjected to 11G's during the re-entry period.

Two minutes after launch, at 60,000 feet, a small parachute opened to stabilize the space craft. At 10,000 feet, a 63-foot main chute unfurled to lower the capsule into the water, presumably with no more force than if it had fallen off a 14-foot wall.

Recovery ships in the area reported they sighted the large red and white parachute as it lowered the capsule toward the sea.

Two helicopters from the Lake Champlain rushed immediately to the scene. One lowered a hook to raise the capsule upright. It was home of her son, Mr. Thomas Williams, Mt. Clemens, Michigan. Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Mary Jamison of Hope, Arkansas, Mrs. Bonnie Taylor of Long Beach, Calif.; one brother, Mr. Fester Taylor of Hope; four sons, Mr. Johnnie Williams of Hope, Mr. Thomas Williams, Mt. Clemens, Mich.; Mr. Arthur Williams of Little Rock, Ark.; Mr. Lee Williams of Detroit, Mich.; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Lee Smith of Hope, and Mrs. Girtha Lee Richardson of Little Rock.

Funeral services will be held Sunday, May 7, at 2 p.m. at New Belhel Baptist Church, Rev. W. M. Martin, pastor. Hicks Funeral Home, Inc., in charge of arrangements.

THE STORY: William Darnody, the deaf-mute secretary of Julius Stockmaster, is searching for his employer. Jim Bennett saw Stockmaster, who pretends to be a deaf-mute but is not, with Laura Reynolds. Their conversation revealed to Bennett, a private detective, that Laura is marrying Max Dane for his money.

CHAPTER XVII

I made a writing motion with my right hand on my left palm and he handed me his pad and pencil. I wrote, "Why does Mr. Stockmaster pretend to be a deaf-mute?"

He smiled, wrote on a fresh page and held it up for me to see. "How did you find out?"

After that our written conversation went like this:

"Me": I overheard him talking to Miss Reynolds.

"Darnody": By now, no doubt, I told Miss Reynolds that I'd overheard them. Why the act?

Mantle Again Helps Bat the Yanks to Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit southpaw Don Mossi won his third without defeat by pitching a two-hitter for a 6-0 decision at Washington Thursday night. That kept the Tigers in a tie with New York for the American League lead after the Yankees had beaten Minnesota 5-2 in an afternoon game.

In the only other AL game scheduled, Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 8-7 in 13 innings on Ron Hansen's two-run single.

In the National League, young Joey Jay pitched a one-hitter and allowed only two men to reach base as the Cincinnati Reds beat Philadelphia 4-0. San Francisco gained a one-game lead by whipping the Chicago Cubs 9-3, and Milwaukee banged Los Angeles 10-6 in 10 innings on Joe Adcock's grand-slam homer. St. Louis and Pittsburgh were idle.

Mossi, 31, walked three and struck out five in the best performance of his eight-year career, which has included a trio of three-hitters. He had a no-hit game until Gene Green singled with two out in the seventh inning. The other hit, also a single, was by Willie Tasby with two out in the ninth.

The Tigers handed witness Benny Daniels his third defeat.

Mickey Mantle blasted his ninth home run, tops in the majors, for the Yankees, but it was a three-run first inning that sent the defending champs to their seventh victory in the last eight games. Two walks, Mantle's single and an infield out scored the first two runs and Elston Howard's single brought in the clincher. Whitey Ford (4-1) was the winner, but withdrew due to the effects of a cold and Jim Coates came on for a one-hit, shutout mop-up over the last three frames. Jim Kat (1-2) was the loser.

Hansen drove in four runs for the Orioles, who twice came from three runs behind, and triggered the ninth-inning rally with a one-on homer. His winning single, off reliever Ned Garver (0-2), followed a walk and a double by Gus Triandos, who also belted a two-run homer. Reliever Hoyt Wilhelm won his fourth.

Hanging Party to Be Monday

Dallas Judge W. E. Richburg will address a joint meeting of Lions and Kiwanis clubs at 12 noon next Monday at Hotel Barlow—that is, if he escapes the hangman's noose.

Before he speaks, there is the little matter of a case which has been styled "Hope vs. Dallas Judge".

The case has been pending for several weeks and will be prosecuted by Attorneys John L. Wilson and Albert Graves with James H. Pilkinton playing the role of the "Hanging Judge".

Judge Richburg telephoned today that he is bringing along a delegation of 15 from Dallas, including three lawyers, a court reporter, a newspaperman, a Baptist and Methodist preacher, and other friends from the Dallas Lions club. Three of the delegation will come by private airplane.

All are scheduled to arrive at 11 a.m. The judge's car will be intercepted as it approaches the city limits by Sheriff Jimmie Griffin and Police Chief Jack Brown. Handcuffs will be placed on the judge and he will then be hustled off to the Hempstead County jail.

If bail can be arranged, the judge will be released and brought to Hotel Barlow to stand trial. Already 148 Lions and Kiwanis members have tickets. Seating capacity is 225. Additional guests tickets are available at the chamber of commerce or at the hotel.

Four microphones are being installed for the "court's convenience" and the joint luncheon program which has been arranged by R. C. (Bob) Daniels. A publicity stunt, the case of "Hope vs. Dallas Judge" had its beginning a few weeks ago in Judge Richburg's court, precinct 7, place 1, at Dallas, when the judge made a left-handed remark about Hope.

It was published in the Dallas News, and drew the anger and wrath of several Hope citizens. Matters worsened as time went by. It was decided things had gone far enough. Judge Richburg was invited to Hope—and he promptly accepted.

If the judge survives Monday's ordeal, he and his guests will be given a tour of Hope and presented good-will souvenirs by several industrial plants—and sent back to Dallas with fond memories of Hope, Arkansas.

Jay Hurls One Hitter to Give Redlegs a Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Jay pitched a one-hit shutout—giving up a first-inning single by Johnny Callison—and allowed only two men to reach base as the Cincinnati Reds defeated Philadelphia 4-0 Thursday night for their fifth straight victory. San Francisco padded its National League lead to a full game over idle Pittsburgh by beating the Chicago Cubs 9-3.

Joe Adcock's bases-loaded home run over Los Angeles in 10 innings gave Milwaukee a 10-6 vic-scheduled in the NL.

In the American League Detroit southpaw Don Mossi pitched in a first place tie with New York. The Yankees defeated Minnesota 5-2. Baltimore beat the Los Angeles Angels 8-7 in 13 innings. Jay, 25, is a Little League graduate who had a 24-24 record, including a two-hitter and one three-hitter, in seven seasons with Milwaukee. He was traded to the Reds for shortstop Roy McMillan last December.

The Reds scored in two-run bursts in the first and third innings off Art Mahaffey (2-2), who allowed seven hits and five walks.

Adcock's slam, the eighth of his career, capped a five-run 10th off loser Jim Golden (1-1). John Roseboro homered for the Dodgers, who blew a 4-1 lead behind starter Don Drysdale.

Carl Willey (1-0), the fourth Milwaukee pitcher to follow starter Bob Buhl, won it.

A five-run sixth inning gave it to the Giants, who came from behind on Orlando Cepeda's two-run single off loser Glen Hobbie (1-3). Sam Jones (3-1) went all the way for the Giants.

Peaches and Cream for the Crackers

By BURGESS DAMRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Everything was peaches and cream for the Atlanta Crackers today thanks to the Macon Peaches.

The latest addition to the Class AA Southern Association is beginning to move after a very slow start and Atlanta is mighty glad of it. Fact is, had Macon failed to move past Chattanooga last night the Crackers would have been bounced unceremoniously out of first place due to a loss to Little Rock.

But the Peaches drew a bead on the Lookouts in the 10th inning and rode Bill Gabler's home run to a 12-11 victory. Little Rock defeated Atlanta 10-6 as lefthander Bob Belinsky struck out 12. Shreveport needed 12 innings to dispose of lowly Mobile 10-6 and Birmingham tightened its grip on third place by beating Nashville 4-3.

Chattanooga moved into Atlanta tonight to open a series which has first place as the prize for the winner. The series ends Sunday. The Travelers took the Crackers series 3-1 and Belinsky racked up his third straight victory against no defeats. Three Little Rock errors contributed heavily to five Atlanta runs in the last two innings.

Belinsky was relieved with two out in the ninth after the Crackers had scored two runs. Jim Lehigh disposed of the final batter.

The Travelers put the game on ice with a four-run outburst in the last of the eighth.

Moody Lost as Porks Get Heavy Work

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Billy Joe Moody may be out the rest of the spring football practice season as the result of a shoulder injury suffered in scrimmage Thursday, Arkansas trainer Bill Ferrell said today.

Ferrell said that the vital Razorback linebacker definitely won't play in a Red-White intrasquad game here Saturday and may not play in a similar game at Little Rock Saturday, May 13, which winds up the spring season.

Moody missed a tackle early in the scrimmage and drove his shoulder into the ground.

He finished out the scrimmage, but an examination later showed that a shoulder muscle had been strained.

The Red team beat the Whites Thursday 6-3 on a five-yard touchdown run by sophomore halfback Harold Record.

The first two units saw defensive action only, and the third and fourth units handled the offense. First-line quarterbacks George McKincey and Billy Moore did not play.

Defensive backfield Coach Doug Dickey said he was pleased with the performance of the first two units. They effectively stopped the third and fourth teams, except for some promising passing by sophomore quarterbacks Fred Marshall and Gordon Guest.

Marshall connected on 5 of 15 passes for 69 yards. He hit a 33-yarder to sophomore halfback Mike Edwards at the Red 22 to set up Tom McKinley's 42-yard field goal. That was the only Red score. McKinley missed on four
